

employee volunteering

Why choose employee volunteering?

Your training budget will be better spent.

You will simultaneously generate huge benefits for communities local to your company.

Better use of your training budget:

Real challenges, not just classroom role play, offering inspiring and memorable personal development training for your staff.

Benefits for local communities:

real contribution to the local community – people who really need help receive it direct from the people you employ.

How can you get involved?

Your involvement can be scaled to your motivation and means:

Make a simple commitment in the form of a one-day team-building project involving your staff and a local community group.

Or generate huge benefits to your most valuable employees and challenged individuals within the community by committing to staff participation in a 12 month coaching programme.

make a difference
make a big difference

www.employeevolunteering.co.uk

Smart companies are adopting employee volunteering to deliver their training and Corporate Social Responsibility obligations

A survey of volunteers reported the following skills increase at work*

Team-work skills up

78%

Leadership skills up

68%

Communication skills up

67%

Your next steps

Call and speak to us now

Tel : 0845 2269694

Email us and we'll contact you

enquiries@employeevolunteering.co.uk